“Georgina, Chris and the rest of the team were fantastic, they made the event so fun, everyone was engaged. The challenges were great and the outcome of building things to make a difference really enhanced the whole experience. the drone building in particular was a great hit as we have engineers in the business so it was good to show them another side of engineering differing from what we do daily.”

“Our team has always been good at working together however the event helped people to interact with colleagues they don't usually interact with, it gave them a chance to see others strengths and weaknesses and how to best approach each other.”

“From the previous event we did, everything was seamless, the team were enthusiastic so when it came to organising this event it was an easy choice. We had reached out to other event companies but their options on challenges etc didn't fit and they were not as flexible and supportive as o3e.”
